Introduction

English is a very strong language in almost all countries today, not only used in European countries but almost all countries in the world use English.¹ There are many ways used by people to convey their idea such as through literary work. Literary language is that language which used in literary criticism and general discussion on some literary works. So, through literary, people can convey their opinion, idea, feeling, and thought and also communicate with others. Variation in English is not only known in education but also very important in literature to broaden knowledge.²

The language of literature was completely different from the language used by ordinary people orally or in writing. So, literature is not easy to be understood by ordinary people. Only highly educated people can enjoy reading literature. In the discourse of literature as a science,³ mentions three major types of works literature, namely fiction (prose), poetry, and drama with various minor types. Figurative language is a style of language used by the author or speaker to convey a message imaginatively and figuratively. Figurative language is a part of semantic.⁴ The aim of the using of figurative language in the poetry is to make the reader or listener can get a certain effect from the style of language. Figurative language, on the other hand, could be regarded as the opposite of literal language.⁵

Figurative language is used to rich the meaning of language, give beautiful effect, and distinctive way of expressing thoughts and feelings. To understand it, people have to think deeper that figurative language has intended meaning to be interpreted in literal sense appealing to the imagination and figurative language also provides new ways of looking at the new world. Figurative language has connotation meaning. So, the reader or listener have to be able to understand the intended meaning carefully.

Figurative language is also a way to involve readers or listeners to be more creative in interpreting the words and writings that author conveys as well as possible. The increasing interest in figurative language calls for a clear overview of figurative language research.\textsuperscript{6} According to\textsuperscript{7} said that in learning process, the analysis of figurative language in poem and song is more often implemented than the analysis of figurative language in the movie.

Literature is simple another way we can experience the world around us through our imagination. Poetry is a literary work with language that is condensed, shortened, and rhymed with a coherent sound and the choice of figurative words (imaginative). Figurative language is language that uses words or expressions with a meaning that is different from the literal interpretation,\textsuperscript{8} divides figurative language into seven types, namely comparison, metaphor, parable, epic, personification, metonymy, and allegory. Figurative language is divided into four categories. They are Contradiction Figure, Comparative Figure, Affirmation Figure, and Satire Figure. According to\textsuperscript{9} said that the meanings used in the figurative languages of the song lyric are connotative and denotative meaning. Music especially a song has a stress pattern of musical rhythm.

Then according to\textsuperscript{10} Music may have a strong influence on literature. In the first bar, there is a strong beat called accent. Like a music, English is often described as stress-time language. This research is focus on analysis figurative language used in Maher Zain’s song album in 2013.\textsuperscript{11} What is a song? As a literary term, song had acquired particular historical meanings for poets writing in English by the mid-nineteenth century. As people listen to the music through its lyrics, language tends to be expressive since it is able to convey the meaning and background of the song.\textsuperscript{12} So far this research analyze the figurative language used in 5 song lyrics of Maher Zain album 2013.

This research uses a descriptive qualitative research, because the data are from the text and the song of Maher Zain’s song which contain many type of figurative language. Descriptive research is a study of status and is widely used in education, nutrition, epidemiology, and the behavioral sciences.\textsuperscript{13} What is qualitative research? If we look for a precise definition of qualitative research, and specifically for one that addresses its distinctive feature of being “qualitative,” the literature is meager.\textsuperscript{14} The data source at this research is taken from 5 song lyrics of Maher Zain album (2013). The songs are \textit{hold my hand}, \textit{insya allah}, \textit{for the rest of my life}, \textit{thank you allah}, \textit{palestine will be freedom}

In this study, the researcher used direct observation by listening to the Maher Zain’s songs. The researcher listen 5 songs of Maher Zain’s. While listening the song, the researcher takes note the lyrics that use figurative language. Then performs the next data collection technique, namely documentation from lyric that take from google. When there is a phrase or sentence that is thought to contain figurative language, the researcher directly carries out documentation activities, namely by taking a video clip screenshot and recording it.

After the data collection has been carried out continuously and produces sufficient data to be analyzed. The next step is data analysis technique. Data analysis needs to be done to classify the collected data. In this process of systematically searching and arranging the field note, and other materials such as paper, lyric song and song that the researcher accumulate to increase his own understanding. The procedure of data analysis can be seen as follows:

1. Interpreting the data based on the way of Maher Zain’s album 2013 expressed figurative language.
2. Interpreting the data based on the general meaning, and the message.
3. Making conclusion

In the song which the title “Palestine will be free,” the researcher found 7 kinds of figurative language, they are litotes, hyperbole, alliteration, irony, simile, personification, parallelism.

Based on the finding above, the researcher found 10 figurative language namely:

1. Simile

   According to Relevance Theory, similes are interpreted as comparisons, whereas metaphors are interpreted as categorization statements.\(^{15}\) Simile figurative language appeared in lyric “children seem like they have lost their smile” because in this lyric, the song’s writer compare two different things directly used the word comparison “like”. In the lyrics, the song’s writer compared the words “children” and “lostsmile”.

In lyric “we’er” still going on like nobody really cares” include simile because it used the word comparison “like”. In the lyrics “we’er” still going on like nobody really cares”, the songwriter compares two different things directly “going on” and “really cares” by using the word "like".

In lyric “and we just stopped feeling all the pain because like it’s a daily basic affair” include simile because used the word comparison “like”. In the lyrics, the songwriter compared the words “stopped feeling all the pain and daily basic affair” by using the word "like". The two words have different meaning but the songwriter compared directly as if have the same meaning.

In lyric “every time you feel like you cannot go on” include simile because used the word comparison ”like”. In the lyrics above the songwriter compares two different things directly by using the word "like". Two different things that are compared are “feel and you cannot go on”.

In lyric “Like drops of rain in the sun’s light” include simile because it used the word comparison “like”. In the lyrics above the songwriter compares two different things directly by using the word "like". Two different things that are compared are “rain and sun”.

2. Metaphor

According to Relevance Theory, similes are interpreted as comparisons, whereas metaphors are interpreted as categorization statements. In lyric “life is shorter than most had thought” include metaphor because the lyric used word “is” it’s the characteristic of metaphor that point with the definition of something. In the lyrics above, the songwriter compares two different things indirectly because it does not use comparative words “like, as, etc.

In lyric“you”re the only one who can show me the way” include metaphor because describes the comparison of an object with other objects that have the same properties but in figurative form. In the lyrics above, the songwriter compares two different things indirectly because it does not use comparative words. The song writer compared the words “you” and “only one”.

16 Ibid.
3. Personification

All forms of personification draw on anthropomorphism, the propensity to attribute human characteristics to objects.\(^{17}\) In lyric “I hear the flowers kind of crying loud” include personification. Because the lyric of this song contain parable word that likens human nature at objects or creatures outside of human “flower and cry”. It is known that “cry” is the characteristics of human but the songwriter give attribute “cry” to the flower as if the flower can cry like human.

In lyric “the breeze is sounding sad” include personification. Because the lyric of this song contain parable word that likens human nature of objects or creatures outside of human “breeze and sad”. “sad” is the characteristics of human but the songwriter give the word “sad” to the “breeze”. It means that breeze as if human that have feeling sad.

Because the lyric of this song contain parable word that likens human nature of objects or creatures outside of human like “play and beauty world”. In lyric “heart breaking crying sound” include personification. Because the lyric of this song contain parable word that likens human nature of objects or creatures outside of human like “heart and cry”. In the lyrics, the songwriter give attribute human to non-human that is give “cry” to the heart”. It means that heart can cry like human.

4. Litotes

Litotes denies the semantic opposite of what is meant to mitigate the literal content of the utterance.\(^{18}\) In lyric “I was so far from you, yet to me you were always so close” include litotes, because it contain statements that are contrary to the actual situation, the impression of being humble, The “far” in the sentence above is not the real distance, but a humiliation from how often we worship God. Figurative language litotes is just a language used to express something with the aim of humbling oneself. In lyric “I was too proud to see the truth and prostrate to you” include litotes, because litotes in this sentence uses the comparison of "too proud" or feels proud of himself so as to make himself far from the truth. it contain statements that are contrary to the actual situation, or with the impression of being humble. In lyric “That’s why I won’t cry” include litotes, because in sentence “I won’t cry” it contain statements that are contrary to the actual situation, or with the impression of being humble.in the lyrics above the songwriter explains that he will not cry no matter how hard the problem. In lyric “I feel scared but I won’t show my fears” include litotes, because litotes in this sentence uses the comparison "I won’t show my fears” which explains to try not to show one's fear. And contain statements that are contrary to the actual situation, or with the impression of being humble.

5. Antithesis

Antithesis is a stylistic device that is created by presenting opposite meaning words. In lyric “though days and nights” include antithesis because in the lyrics appeared the words “day” and “night” that opposed each other. According to ducrot and todorov (1981:277) Antithesis is a stylized expression of language in discourse that state two opposite things.

6. Alliteration

Alliteration is a method of euphonic repetition in one voice, tuning one or two similar sounds. In lyric “insya Allah 3x” include alliteration, because there is any repetition in the sentence “insya allah” there is repetition of words so that the sound produced is the same. The repetition of this consonant sound serves to beautify a sentence. In lyric “Further and further away from you” include alliteration because in sentence “further and further” there are words with the same consonant sound at the beginning. The repetition of this consonant sound serves to beautify a sentence in lyric “All praises to Allah, All praises to Allah” include alliteration, because In the song lyric “insya Allah” there is repetition of words so that the sound produced is the same.
